CONGRESS'S TASK DRAWS NEARER

Many Domestic Problems Press for Settlement but Definite Program Making Will Await President-Elect Harding's Return.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 27.—Increasing demands for early relief from existing financial, business and agricultural conditions are piling up the desk of the Republican leaders of congress, they stated today.

Despite repeated declarations that the approaching winter session will be devoted almost exclusively to appropriation measures, it was admitted congress may be forced to pass emergency legislation to meet the acute domestic problems pressing for immediate solution.

The situation is one that is giving the Republican leaders grave concern, they said, but until the return of President-elect Harding from Panama they will continue to "mark time." They want to consult him before mapping out a complete program for the coming session. It was explained.

It is expected Mr. Harding will confer with them here on or about the day congress reconvenes—December 6th. He is due to arrive at Newport News, Va., December 4th. It is expected a private dinner given in his honor soon may be the occasion for "public utterances" of the president-elect and others "high in the councils of the Republican party."

Upon his departure upon his present journey, Mr. Harding invited several influential Republican senators to meet him at dinner upon his return. He suggested Washington as the best place for the dinner and he is expected to spend at least a day and a night here before returning to Marion.

By the time Mr. Harding is due here and congress is ready to get down to business, Washington will be filling with representatives of those financial, business and agricultural interests which are seeking immediate action on tax and other legislation. They want congress to act at once to afford the relief they desire which they require without delay.

There are other interests that have expressed opposition to a high protective tariff which they declare would prevent this country "from snatching" its goods for those of foreign countries and building up a larger foreign trade. Still others would have President Wilson invoke his war powers and employ some agency like the war trade board to place an embargo on those imports with which American producers are unable to compete.

They also favor a revival of the war finance corporation as another means of meeting the existing situation.

When congress meets a little more than a week hence, it will find all of these interests knocking at its doors. Audiences with President-elect Harding will be sought by representatives of these interests.

Republican as well as Democratic leaders of congress are to go over the situation with him. President Wilson's message to congress is being awaited with undisguised interest. Developments or far reaching import before the Xmas holidays are anticipated by those who have been observing the trend of domestic affairs throughout the country.

REVISED TAX RULES READY

Revised regulations of the state income tax bureau are ready for distribution.

District Director J. DePay Hasbrouck at Kingston today referred to the many and important changes made in this act by the last Legislature.

"It is quite essential," he said, "that attorneys, accountants and tax specialists who will have to meet the task of preparing intricate returns for filing before April 15, 1921, should be well grounded on these new provisions."

Nearly $100,000 has been collected by the investigation division of the bureau in calls on thirty thousand persons.

Necessarily this force has centered its efforts on small shop keepers and the floating population of theatrical performers, ball players, and others.

In Greater New York these collections have exceeded $44,000.

Secure Litigation Ends.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Salem, Mass., Nov. 27.—All litigation in the settlement of the $5 million dollar estate of the late Edward F. Norton was disposed of yesterday when Judge White granted a decree allowing the will to probate. Contested for both sides in the contest brought by Albert V. Norton, nephew of the testator, which is reported to have resulted in a settlement of $2,000,000 paid to him, declined to make a statement as to the settlement.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, Nov. 27 (Special).—Arrival of transportation have been fixed with the secretary of state by A. W. Crane, Superintendent of the Kingston branch of the New York State Department of Transportation.

CORPORATION TAX UPHELD

State Saved $86,000,000 By Court of Appeals Decision—Balks Efforts to Recover Taxes Already Paid.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 27.—New York state was saved $86,000,000 by a court of appeals decision today.

The state's highest tribunal sustained the corporation income tax law, assailed by several of the largest corporate taxpayers in the state and thereby, according to Attorney General Newton's interpretation, "checkmated the efforts of the business and mercantile corporations to recover all corporate franchise taxes paid the state in the last three years."

Judge Benjamin N. Cardozo wrote the opinion which was made public today and which sustains the constitutionality of the law, except those portions of it which refuse to allow corporations to include stock and bond holdings among assets. The law was enacted in 1917.

Claude T. Dawes, deputy, who was associated with Attorney General Newton in defending the statute, declared today that an unfavorable decision would have compelled the state to float a new bond issue to refund the $86,000,000 involved in the litigation. The decision, it is believed, will operate to deter further assaults upon the constitutionality of the law.

"With the lines so blurred and vague between the lawful and the unlawful," wrote Judge Cardozo, "the most honestly conceived and carefully developed system of assessment may involve some element of value beyond the reach of the taxing power. I will not readily impute a desire to place the revenues of the state in jeopardy by the sacrifice of the whole whenever there is a failure of the part."

SUGGEST WRANGLER DEFEND ARMENIA

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Geneva, Nov. 27.—In General Wrangel, the defeated anti-bolshevik commander in the Crimea, now a refugee at Constantinople, several of the smaller members of the league of nations see the logical "savior of Armenia."

The league commission examining the Armenian problem had before it today a proposal by these powers for the immediate re-equipment of Wrangel's army and for sending it against the bolshevik and the Turkish nationalist forces now attacking Armenia. The plan is urged mainly on the ground that Wrangel's forces are nearest to that country.

Britain's delegation was quick to register its violent opposition to any such a scheme, pointing out that Wrangel, no matter what his intentions may have been, has failed as a military commander and has lost prestige everywhere.

Delegates of other powers were inclined to support the proposal. They suggested that since Wrangel's forces are already largely offered by French and commanded by French and British commanders, it would not be difficult to reorganize them and whip up their martial spirit, whereupon artillery and money would be the only things needed to make a victorious Armenian campaign possible.

Lord Robert Cecil, who heads the commission on the Armenian problem, told correspondents today that $20,000,000 would be sufficient to save the Armenians. He refused to disclose what the commission has decided upon but intimated an appeal would be sent to the Armenian relief organizations in the United States to speed up the collecting of funds.

A commission which is also headed by Lord Robert, today said its work of examining the applications of Austria and Bulgaria for admission to the league. A report will be submitted to the whole commission this afternoon and is being kept strictly secret. Nothing will be made known concerning it until definite decisions are reached.

DE VALERA'S PLEA.

Sent By Wilson to State Department.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 27.—President Wilson yesterday transmitted to the state department the formal plea by Eamon de Valera for recognition by the United States of the Irish republic.

The document which contains several thousand words was signed by de Valera as president of the Irish republic.

This is the first time that the cause of Ireland has been laid before the state department in a formal manner. Whether a reply will be made to the president of the Irish republic is problematical, though officials stated today there is precedent for such action.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Breed will be over cost per head cheaper in Chicago next month. Breeders have agreed to sell pound hogs that have been retained at 12 cents for 11 cents and pound and one-half hogs that have been selling for 12 cents at 14 cents.

Charles Kidd has just received a letter from his wife, who is a resident of thirty, which he has placed on the New York-Kingston route. The box was made its first trip Thanksgiving Day.

ROACH MATTER UP NEXT MONTH

Health Board Decided To Take Up Question of Whether Rendering Plant Is Nuisance or Not At Meeting December 14—Interested Parties To Be Invited—Other Matters.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of health was held Friday afternoon at the city hall at which time the board decided to notify Roach Brothers, and the residents of the Sixth ward who had lodged a complaint with the board regarding the stench from the rendering plant on Ann street, to appear before the board at the meeting to be held December 14, when the board expected to take some action on the report of the state board of health inspection of the Roach plant, which was printed in The Freeman on November 8, at the time it was received in Kingston. It was stated that Roach Brothers had retained the law firm of Van Etten & Cook to fight any attempt to eliminate their place of business, and that the residents of the Sixth ward had retained Judge James Jenkins to help them abate the alleged nuisance. Both law firms will be notified of the meeting in December.

There have been a number of complaints made regarding the stench from the Roach plant, and while investigations have been made nothing was ever done in the matter, and finally the residents of the Sixth ward banded themselves together and not only appeared before the local health board but went to Albany and appeared before the state health board and as a result of their efforts the state board sent an engineer here early in October to make an investigation. His report closes as follows: "I therefore recommend that the local board of health of the city of Kingston be advised to take suitable action in accordance with the provisions of the public health law to abate the nuisance created by the operation of the Roach Brothers' rendering plant in the city of Kingston."

The local board Friday directed Health Officer Johnston and Sanitary Inspector Stork to also make an investigation of the Roach plant before the next meeting, and submit a report to the board at that time.

The board accepted the resignation of Miss Evelyn Bugg, who was clerk in the city laboratory, and the committee in charge of the laboratory reported it had made an appointment to fill the vacancy caused by Miss Bugg's resignation which took effect November 1.

John T. Cahill, agent for Julia McDonnell, made application to continue an outside vault at No. 110 Greenhill avenue, which was granted, subject to the rules and regulations of the board.

The state board of health wrote asking if the board had any objection to the state board appointing the director of the city laboratory as custodian of a district comprising the city of Kingston and also as to whether any objections would be made to her being appointed to another district including practically the balance of Ulster county. The board had no objection and the state board will be so notified. The state board is establishing supply stations throughout the state where physicians may obtain necessary supplies in combating disease.

There were no other matters to be taken up, and the board adjourned.

HIGHWAY DEPT MATERIAL BURNS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Watford, N. Y., Nov. 27.—Damage of nearly $40,000 was caused by the fire at the New York state highway department's storehouse, division 2, at Watford, early last night, when flames destroyed a new shed, 180 feet long and eighteen stories three-ton auto trucks. The fire other buildings of the big plant, which is the finest of the state highway department's storehouses, were saved in a hard battle by four volunteer fire companies, the Ford Hook and Ladder Company, the Kriegerbecker Company and the Karsanaw Company of Watford, and the Peck Company of Northville, Cohoes. The firemen fought the flames more than two hours.

Swearing reductions in prices of roofing, paints, linoleum and related products have just been put into effect by the Certain-teed Products Corporation, makers of more than one-fourth of all prepared roofing, and the largest manufacturer of its kind in the world. The reductions in some cases amount to as much as 25%. Lower costs than these new prices have been anticipated, and the new prices are based accordingly, reductions on many items being more than 50%.

Swearing On South Position.
The position of John H. Smith for permission to operate a stage route in the town of Lloyd as part of a route between Highland and Marlborough will have a hearing before Commissioner Van Name at Albany Thursday, December 2, at 2 p. m.

ENORMOUS SUM FOR GOOD ROADS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.—Over a billion dollars is now available for road building and maintenance in the United States, of which approximately $550,000,000 will probably be expended during 1921, according to figures compiled by the A. A. Good Roads Board.

State bonds for highway improvement aggregating $533,800,000 have been authorized during the past three years. During 1918, state bonds amounting to $50,000,000 were authorized in Illinois and $50,000,000 in Pennsylvania. The following issues were authorized during 1919:

California	$ 40,000,000
Oregon	12,500,000
Nevada	1,000,000
South Dakota	4,500,000
Wyoming	2,800,000
Maine	10,000,000
Michigan	50,000,000
Utah	4,000,000

Owing to the shortage and high price of labor and materials, to the lack of open top equipment on the railroads, and to the condition of the bond market, very little of this money as yet has been expended.

During 1920 a total of $309,000,000 of state highway bonds have been voted as follows:

Alabama	$ 25,000,000
Idaho	2,000,000
Oregon	10,000,000
Colorado	5,000,000
Maryland	3,000,000
Minnesota	75,000,000
West Virginia	50,000,000
Missouri	60,000,000
Virginia (Legislature to fix)	(50,000,000)
New Jersey Vehicular tunnel	29,000,000

$309,000,000

*Authorized November 2.

The constitution of Kansas prohibited the state from engaging in internal improvements, but this difficulty was removed by the referendum at the recent election. That state may now pay one-fourth of the cost of not to exceed 100 miles of road in each county and not to exceed $10,000 per mile.

The amount of bonds authorized in the state of Virginia was not fixed in the referendum measure, but the legislature may under the law vote bonds to the extent of approximately $50,000,000.

A proposal was approved in California increasing the interest on the state highway bonds from 4 1/2% but not to exceed 6 per cent, which will permit the state to dispose of the $40,000,000 in bonds authorized in 1919.

The ($29,000,000 bonds) authorized in New Jersey are for the purpose of paying the state's share of the cost of a vehicular tunnel under the Hudson river.

During the past year bond issues have been authorized in the various counties in the United States amounting to approximately $362,000,000. The amounts authorized in each state are indicated as follows:

Alabama	$ 5,000,000
Arizona	8,400,000
Arkansas	2,400,000
California	24,635,000
Colorado	1,515,000
Florida	15,245,000
Georgia	7,733,000
Illinois	8,842,845
Iowa	18,475,000
Kansas	50,000
Kentucky	1,700,000
Louisiana	5,350,000
Maine	10,000,000
Michigan	2,300,000
Minnesota	12,800,000
Mississippi	15,773,000
Missouri	13,504,000
Montana	6,283,000
Nebraska	3,000,000
Nevada	1,200,000
New Jersey	200,000
New Mexico	13,600,000
North Carolina	1,158,000
Oklahoma	5,636,704
Oregon	21,327,552
Pennsylvania	3,500,000
Rhode Island	7,125,000
South Dakota	86,223,000
Tennessee	2,766,000
Texas	8,225,000
Vermont	7,939,200
West Virginia	26,525,000
Wisconsin	2,200,000
Wyoming	1,200,000

Total $361,971,537

Officials of the Bureau of Public Roads estimate that there is still available approximately $160,000,000 of Federal AID funds for allocation to projects in the various states. This, together with funds obtained from bond issues, from direct levies, and other sources of state revenue, from county bond issues and appropriations will, it is estimated, make available for expenditure at present between a billion and a billion and a quarter dollars.

The funds derived from state and local bonds issues, however, and that to be received from the Federal Government will be expended over a period of years and it is doubtful whether such sums will be applied to the construction of 1921. Assuming that this vast sum will be applied to the construction of about the same sum as those for the past two years, it is estimated that there will be expended for road purposes during 1921 approximately $250,000,000.

At the recent election bond issues were defeated in these states:

Florida	$20,000,000
Massachusetts	15,000,000
Washington	24,000,000

BOMB IN CORK STARTS BIG FIRE

And Black and Tans Prevent Firemen From Putting Out Blaze That Does $250,000 Damage—Another Week End of Terror Fared in Dublin.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Cork, Nov. 27.—Another bombing outrage, was perpetrated by the black and tans early today, when a load of explosives was set off at a big store, starting a fire which caused at least $250,000 loss. The city's entire fire fighting apparatus was rushed to the scene, but black and tans prevented the firemen from extinguishing the flames. A battle was fought while the fire swept on unchecked. The firemen were worsted and driven off. Dublin, Nov. 27.—Another week end of terror and bloodshed is looked for here. The night was marked by wholesale raids by the black and tans. There were several bomb explosions and rifle fire was heard in various parts of the city at frequent intervals.

Squads of government military and police tore through the streets all night, and wherever they thought they had ground for suspicion they smashed in doors and ransacked the premises for evidence.

Fearful of a repetition of the last week ends reign of terror, the authorities redoubled their precautions. Pawn found all the main streets of the city heavily patrolled and whole districts guarded by cordons of troops and police.

FERRY SERVICE CHANGE DEC. 1

Commencing Wednesday, December 1st, the evening service of the Rhinebeck ferry will be discontinued.

The last trip from Kingston will be made at 7 o'clock and from Rhinebeck at 7:20. During the day the present forty minute schedule will be maintained. Under this schedule New York Central train No. 79, leaving New York at 4:03 p. m., and arriving at Rhinebeck at 7:05, will be the latest north bound train for which a ferry connection will be made.

ITALIAN POWDER BLAST KILLS 7

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 27.—Seven persons were killed when the big Vorigate Powder House, forty miles outside Milan, Italy, blew up at noon yesterday. First word of the disaster did not reach London until today. The whole little town built around the powder works was wiped out by the explosion and thousands are homeless. The railway bridge on the Domo-Dossola line was wrecked by the blast, which could be heard for miles around.

FIRE CONSUMES SPANISH LINER

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 27.—A tremendous conflagration swept the big Spanish navy yard at Bilbao last night, causing damage which cannot yet be estimated, according to a dispatch from Bilbao early today. The 14,000 ton Atlantic liner Alfonso XIII, which was only launched last month, was entirely destroyed by the flames.

MASS. AUTOISTS MUST PASS TEST

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Boston, Nov. 27.—Declaring that he no longer desires to bear the grave responsibility of "turning loose on the highway every year thousands of incompetents to kill and maim," State Registrar of Motor Vehicles Goodwin today decided that no person in Massachusetts shall hereafter be granted an original license to operate a motor vehicle until he has passed an examination adequate to demonstrate his fitness to drive a car.

The announcement of this drastic policy was accompanied by a statement by Goodwin that 16,469 of the operators who obtained licenses in 1919 were absolutely unfit to drive a car.

War Hero's Father Victim.

Another fraudulent way of obtaining money has been brought to light at Saratoga Springs where a man pretending to be a government officer obtained $163 from Dominick Dominick on Thanksgiving day as "advance expense money" for removing Dominick's son's body from the battle fields of France to this country. As Dominick had recently been in communication with the authorities at Washington in regard to the matter he was un suspicious of the stranger.

The proposed change in which the state highway engineer of Arizona was to have been supplanted by a commission of five members was also defeated. In Florida and Washington it was intended to use the automobile registration money to beat the bond issue.

PARLIAMENT HOUSES CLOSED AS PRECAUTION AGAINST SINN FEINERS

Extraordinary Measures Taken To Foil "Plot"—Lloyd George's Life Believed In Danger and His Residence Is Barricaded and Guarded—Griffith's Arrest Intensifies Sinn Fein Hatred.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 27.—Both houses of parliament were ordered closed to all visitors today. This extraordinary measure, taken only on rare previous occasions in Britain's history, is attributed in well informed quarters to a "tip" believed to have been received by the government that the much rumored Sinn Fein attack is due to be attempted today.

The official explanation given shortly after the public announcement of the closing, was that the order was given as "a precautionary measure for the protection of government officers in case of possible trouble."

The historic gray building at number 10 Downing street, headquarters of the government and official residence of Premier Lloyd George, is thoroughly barricaded. A special force of guards, heavily armed, stands in front and both ends of Whitehall are being patrolled by equally heavy guards.

The government, it was pointed out, learned a valuable lesson on the occasion of the recent Whitehall riot by the "army of the unemployed" that came near culminating in the storming of the prime minister's official home.

The Globe flatly declares that the barricading of number 10 Downing street, is a precaution against a "Sinn Fein plot."

"When will they strike and where?" is a question on all lips. Public feeling has been strained to a high pitch of nervousness and anxiety by the constantly recurring official utterances during the week to the effect that the government has in its possession convincing evidence that the Sinn Fein planned—and probably still plans—to carry its fight to the heart of Britain's governmental authority.

Stories of a plot to kill Lloyd George, first exclusively cabled by the International News Service early this week, and since officially confirmed in the face of original scouting in some quarters, are again making the rounds today, and fear for the premier's life is the dominant note in the public tension. Newspapers are snatched up eagerly and scanned for every scrap of news concerning the movements of the first official of the empire.

The arrest yesterday of Arthur Griffith, acting president of the "republic of Ireland" and idol of the Sinn Feiners whose organization he founded, has stirred rebellious sentiment in Erin to fever heat, all Irish news dispatches show and nothing in the way of desperate acts on the part of his sympathizers would surprise London. Sinn Fein is known to have a remarkably efficient and thorough going secret service in London, with ramifications extending even into government offices.

Not since the war days has the public of this capital been in the grip of such anxiety.

MODENA LEADS FOR HOME BUREAU

With New Paltz Second, Hurley Third and Gardiner Fourth—Campaign Progressing Well.

The latest report of the Home Bureau Membership Campaign shows Modena still in the lead with New Paltz second, Hurley third, and Gardiner fourth. During this past week many more Home Bureau committees have been working and all of the reports have been much larger than usual. The final reports to be given at the end of the banner contest on Dec. 1 at the annual meeting look very promising. Every committee will be working harder than ever these last few days with the expectation of taking the banner home on December 1.

The communities having made the largest increases in membership during the past week are: Hurley, High Falls, Kerhonkson, Ellenville and Wawarsing.

From now on the contest will be a very close one and every Home Bureau member should assist her local Home Bureau committee by securing as many members as possible and reporting them to the local chairman as soon as possible or directly to the Home Bureau office.

MONEY AND MORALS
NOW AND THEN

Record Shows Enormous Differences in Prices Here in 1880 and 1920 and Workers Get Many Times as Much Money as Then But Dr. Chase Questions Attendant Increase of Happiness or Morals.

The last time I heard that price of platform orators, and apostle of temperance, John B. Gough, speak was in the winter of 1874.

His theme was not temperance although he put some temperance into this speech, as he always did. His theme was "Now and Then"—as striking as the manner in which he handled it.

Anyone who ever heard Gough, will well remember that he spoke with his mouth, not only, but with his hands, his feet, and in fact with every part of his body. His gestures, even, were eloquent.

He began his lecture by showing by gestures as well as words how fire was kindled when he was a boy by the flint and steel—(I had seen my father demonstrate this)—and then showed how we now scratch a friction match, and have a blaze at once, and then proceeded to show how we had advanced in almost everything.

The title to his lecture, "Now and Then" has sounded in my ears many times since we have been passing through this season of the high cost of living.

I have before me account books and memoranda of my father, reaching back to 1833, the year he left home and worked with his brother-in-law, James Harrington as a carpenter at $12 per month. And work in those days did not mean eight scant hours, but from sunrise to sunset. The best carpenters were paid $1 per day. In those days all the large lumber was hewed from logs.

A memorandum of one house built that year might be interesting to contractors now—I will copy one: "An account of work done at Deacon Whitcomb's house; the house to be 20 by 26 feet; the timber to be hewed, framed, raised and enclosed, five clapboards, plained; two outside doors, one panel door, two inside doors both paneled; floors laid below with maple jointed, one room plained; chamber stairs to be nice, sash made and put in, the work to be plain, for $56."

The record further states that the two men, the carpenter and his apprentice, worked twenty-six days each to erect this building.

May I quote another: "Account of work done at Samuel Wolcott's. The house to be 23 by 28; the timber to be framed, raised, enclosed with five clapboards, plained; the floors laid below with maple, jointed and plained; the chamber floor laid with rough hemlock; eleven doors made and hung, all to be sash made, two butters made. The chamber stairs made, the joiner work all to be done and the sash put in; in addition to be put on, 16 by 26; 12 foot wood house and 14 foot kitchen; the floor laid with maple, plained. All to be done for $102.76." A note added states that "The number of days work done was 101."

The above seems to be all the contract that was made. I would like to estimate from a builder now for such a job. The timber to be hewed from logs, the doors and window sash made.

With a present day estimate we could contrast the "Now and Then" of the three years following my father was foreman in the tannery of his uncle, Ezra Pratt, who was a brother of the Hon. Zadock Pratt, who was the father of Col. George W. Pratt, the colonel of the Old 20th N. Y. Regiment in the Civil War.

He worked for the magnificent sum of $13.50 per month and his board—having charge of the work, and doing himself as much or more than any of the rest. The next year he received $200, and the third year $225. During that year he was married to Louisa Rowley.

After several years spent as carpenter and builder, he purchased a farm.

I note this that in 1842 beef by the quarter was worth two cents a pound for the forequarter and three cents a pound for the hindquarter. Butter sold for 10c per pound, and a cow was worth $10, and dry codfish could be purchased for 2c per pound.

Good farm hands received 75c per day. Eight rods of stone wall was laid for $1.50 for the job. In 1849, a capable man to help in sap bush could be hired for 50c per day, and a sturdy boy could earn 12 cents per day.

To wash 25 sheep a man was paid thirty-eight cents in 1851 and sheared them for four cents each. It cost a half dollar to have one watch cleaned and $2 to have a team of horses shod with eight new shoes. Rice cost 4c per pound and a barrel of flour cost $4.75.

The best farm hands were paid 25c per month in the harvest season and the most capable young women helped the farmer's wife for $1 per week. Cheese was worth 7c per pound, shoes $1 a pair and a real buffalo robe cost $3.75. The cloth and all the trimmings for a broadcloth overcoat cost $7.85 and the tailor made it for $1.

The farmer could hire the stone drawn and the yard stone wall laid for seventy-five cents a rod and sometimes for seventy cents.

In 1852 the best laborers were paid 75c per day or $15 per month. Beef was worth four cents a pound and hemlock lumber $4.50 per thousand.

In 1851 best harvest hands were paid $1.25 per day.

These are a few of the many scores of items I could give but it gives a chance for comparison. I was born in 1845 and my memory goes back to early childhood, and while farmers and laborers have many things now that their grandparents did not have, I question if they are any happier, or if moral standards are as high as they were then? P. V. CHASE.

HERE AND THERE
ABOUT THE TOWN

One of the Bright Spots Along Life's Highway is the Individual With a Cheerful Disposition. Which Lights Up the Rough Spots Along the Way.

"Well I suppose you are doing your Christmas shopping early," said the customer with a cheerful grin as he dropped in the barber shop for a chat.

"I expect to as soon as I can raise the cash," replied the barber, "and I imagine that the Christmas trade will be heavy this season."

"And I guess you are right," said the customer, "but this is once I get ahead of you for I have finished up my shopping, and now can lean comfortably back and watch the other fellow hustle."

"Which reminds me," said the barber, "that the fellow who never gets ahead in life is the one who, when he gets his job caught up with, leans back without looking for something else to do to keep him busy until the whistle blows."

"Well he believes in conserving energy," retorted the customer with a smile.

"And like a lot of other stuff that is conserved in the spring it spoils when summer strikes the town," replied the barber, thinking of the tomatoes the wife had done up, and which had every indication of turning sour.

"Be cheerful," advised the customer with a grin, "for you remember the poem about the cheerful man who grinned when everything went wrong, well you want to be like him."

"That's some advice you had better take to your own heart," retorted the barber, "for as a fellow said in here this morning one of the bright spots along the highway of life was the man with a cheerful disposition which lighted up all the rough spots along the journey."

"Well, that is true," replied the customer.

"And talking about poetry," continued the barber, with a grin, "we have a poet here who stands in a class with Shakespeare or Shottell, or some of those other big poetic guys."

"Shoot," said the customer.

The barber shot as follows: "O Skillypot, we've missed you, and longed for your return. We know you needed a vacation, a little rejuvenation. But that did not aid the years, that within our hearts did burn."

O Skillypot. We know the bridge is building, but it's building mighty slow. And we still will need your services for another year or so, and maybe longer.

But what's the use of sighing for the time is gliding by. And soon and maybe sooner on the job you will be back. And will be rally plowing in your old familiar track. When again the wit will murmur, "engineer slip her in high!"

BALLROOM A WILDERNESS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, Nov. 27.—Transportation of the Adirondacks bodily to the grand ball room of the Waldorf-Astoria for the Forest Dinner of the New York State Forestry Association on December 16, will make that event unique in the annals of forestry in New York state, according to statements of plans that are now being matured in Albany.

The very essence of the Adirondacks, say the foresters of the Conservation Commission, who are staging the transition, are the mountain tops, overlooking broad areas of forest, and the forest game trails, vacationist trails, and the "poet's" camps of known desire and proved delight.

At the very door of the hotel, say the foresters, those who turn from the boulevard to the wooded trail for that night will strike a deer runway, thick with fresh tracks. Further along it will be crossed by the broad imprint of a black bear, and it will be a lover of bears, and follows that trail, he will run it down to something worth while.

When the trees become thicker, and the way uncertain, the trail markers and sign boards of the Conservation Commission's new scheme of recreational development of the Forest Preserve will lead him straight to one of the commission's Adirondack log lean-tos, with its open place and balsam bed.

The upper portion of one of the Conservation Commission's mountain top fire observation towers will dominate the center of the speaker's table. Here will be staged a realistic pantomime of the commission's system of fire prevention. It is also expected that the speakers of the evening will hold forth from the cabin of the tower.

Governor-Elect Nathan L. Miller has been invited to be the guest of honor. Among the speakers will be Dr. Henry Van Dyke, whose essays and poems of the woods are known to every forest lover; Douglas Malloch, forest humorist; and Colonel William B. Greeley, Chief of the Federal Forest Service.

The dinner is being given by the New York State Forestry Association, of which Colonel Robert M. Thompson is president, for the purpose of crystallizing forest activities in New York state for the coming year. Its slogan is "New York Forests: A Heritage and a Hope." A limited number of tickets have accordingly been reserved for all organizations interested in forestry in New York state, and some for the general public, which can be obtained upon application to J. R. Simmons, Secretary, Chamber of Commerce, Syracuse, N.Y.

A number of people from here attended the Thanksgiving supper at the Reformed Church Tuesday night.

Dr. Fuller examined the school last week.

Miss Dorothy Sheldon who is teaching school in Poughkeepsie is spending Thanksgiving vacation at home.

The little daughter of Mrs. Julia Costerman, who has been quite ill, has recovered under the care of Dr. Harker.

Mr. and Mrs. David DePay are gone to Elizabeth, N. J., for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson were called here from Cooperstown, N. Y., by the illness and death of their nephew.

HOLIDAY MAIL USERS' RULES

Senders of holiday post cards should note the following rule relating to their use.

Section 403 of the Postal rules and regulations, 4th paragraph, reads as follows:

"Cards bearing particles of glass, metal, mica, sand, tinseel, or other similar substances, shall not be accepted for mailing, except when enclosed in envelopes tightly sealed to prevent the escape of such particles, or when treated in such manner as will prevent the objectionable substances from being rubbed off or injuring persons handling the mails."

"Note—Cards mailed under cover of sealed envelopes (transparent or otherwise) shall be charged with postage at the first-class rate, and if the enclosed envelopes according to the character of the message. The postage stamps shall be affixed to the envelopes covering the cards. Stamps affixed to matter enclosed in envelopes cannot be recognized in payment of postage thereon."

Postmasters are instructed to give publicity to the fact that when it is desired to send money or anything of intrinsic value by mail it should be registered or insured, for the reason that special-delivery postage does not insure unusual safety nor personal delivery to the addressee, and no indemnity is provided by law for losses of unregistered or uninsured mail bearing special-delivery stamps.

ELLENVILLE.

BIG INDIAN.

Big Indian, Nov. 25.—The masquerade party and dance held in Bryant Hall under the direction of Miss Betty Shelton, last Monday night was a grand success. One hundred and five people attended.

Olivera, Pine Hill, Fleischmans, Shandaken and Stamford being well represented. Games and dancing were enjoyed and a supper served in the dining hall at midnight. The hall was prettily decorated with corn stalks, pumpkins and Japanese lanterns. Miss Anna Rose won first prize as a flower girl and Thomas Sweeney, second prize as a southern belle.

Spiritualism Among Savages.

The original exponents of spiritualism are found among the tribes living about the headwaters of the Amazon. These people take no important steps in any direction without consulting the spirits through a medium who is held in reverence and fear by the other members of the tribe. Their ceremonies are very elaborate and are always conducted at night by the light of a fire.

Few and Far Between.

Occasionally one meets a man who gives direct answer to a simple question, but most persons want to make a speech.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

EDUCATION BOARD HEARS REPORTS

A regular meeting of the board of education was held Friday evening at the high school with President Flemming and Trustees Horbert, Schaeffer, Kearney, Crane and Gill present.

A communication was read from the joint committee of the Legislature on Education, stating that meetings would be held in various cities for the purpose of receiving views from members of boards of education and inviting the local board to send representatives to one of the meetings. The conference nearest Kingston will be held at Troy on December 2, and on motion of Trustee Gill the matter was referred to the teachers' committee, the president and superintendent with power. The members of the board were of the opinion that Kingston should be represented so as to see what action was taken.

The pay roll, already audited as authorized by resolution passed at the last meeting amounting to $17,232.85, was reported by the finance committee and bills amounting to $3,275.21 were audited.

On motion of Trustee Schaeffer a contract was entered into with Fred A. Winters to keep the school plant in repair for one year for the sum of $50.

Trustee Schaeffer also moved that the finance committee be empowered to audit the December pay roll. Carried.

Trustee Schaeffer moved that when the board adjourns they adjourn to December 22. Schools close for the holiday vacation on December 23, and many of the members of the board may be out of town on the regular date. Superintendent Michael, clerk of the board, suggested December 22 as better than December 31, as the members would find it more convenient to attend before the holidays. Carried.

Trustee Gill for the teachers' committee reported the appointment of Miriam Neice as clerk in the office of the principal at the high school and moved the civil service board be notified.

Trustee Gill of the visiting committee reported that the committee had visited Schools 2, 4, 5, 6 and 7. In all of the schools visited things were in fine shape with the exception of the lower grades which were crowded. This he thought might right itself when cold weather came on, but suggested the board take some action to relieve the condition if necessary.

The matter was referred to the teachers' committee and the superintendent with power. The visiting committee was continued.

Superintendent Michael submitted his report and stated that while the balance of over $400 to the credit of the high school might look to the outsider as too large a surplus, he did not consider it so. By paying this capital they were able to pay cash for supplies and purchase in large quantities and benefit by wholesale prices and special discounts. The lunch room is not run to make a profit but the food is sold as near cost as possible.

Superintendent Michael's report was as follows:

I respectfully submit the following report taken largely from the reports submitted to me by the vocational teachers at the close of the school year ending July 31, 1920:

In the manual training department one of the problems worked out by the boys was the construction of the storage building on the high school lot which has since been converted into a machine shop to be used temporarily for the part time school.

Other work done by the boys for the board of education consisted of printing blanks for certain reports, the class day programs, minor repairs on furniture and building yard stands for both the school and the city libraries, picture frames, also type-writing tables and other articles for school use. Exclusive of salaries and a few tools the cost has been as follows:

Material.....$78.75
Stock on hand, estimated.....42.50

Net cost for lumber, etc., $36.25
148 boys were instructed during the year at a cost exclusive of salaries of 24 1/2 cents per capita.

Following is the report of the domestic science department for the first term:

Groceries and other necessary cooking supplies.....$27.71
Food sold by cooking classes to lunch room.....$22.91
Supplies on hand.....5.00

Net cost.....$59.83
74 girls were instructed at a cost per capita exclusive of salaries, of 81 cents.

For the second term the gross cost was.....$53.51
Food sold.....$23.70
Supplies on hand.....5.00

Net cost.....$34.81
45 girls were instructed at a per capita cost of 60 cents.

In the domestic arts department, 64 girls were instructed in sewing at a gross cost of supplies of $109.66
Articles made by girls and sold.....$44.00
Caps and aprons on hand.....28.35
Material on hand.....15.00

Net cost of material.....$22.31
The per capita cost was 65 cents. During the school year this department made for the city hospital 14 shirts, 12 towels; for community relief, 7 dresses, 9 undershirts, 4 shirts, 2 undershirts, 5 hats, 1 coat; for Industrial Home, 13 garments; for Home for the Aged, 44 window curtains; for sale cooking caps, cooking aprons, kitchen aprons, variety of other articles; for home nursing course in high school, rag dolls, checkered cloth.

The first year class visited one of the short factories where they were shown every part of the work. The second year class visited the silk mill and the third year class who were studying home furnishings and decoration visited one of the large furniture departments of the city.

SERVICE ELEVEN'S BATTLE TODAY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 27.—With a crowd of more than 25,000 enthusiastic spectators cheering them on, the Army and Navy football teams will ring down the curtain on a brilliant season here today.

Always colorful, always a spectacle marked with pomp and military splendor, today's game promised to measure up to traditions. The only uncertain element was the weather. The forecasters promise overcast skies with moderate and variable winds. Early in the day, however, rain threatened.

Today's battle between the service eleven's will be the twenty-third they have played over a period of thirty years. Of this number Army has won eleven and Navy ten, while one game resulted in a tie.

Navy supporters felt confident that the midshipmen would even up matters with the cadets today by winning the last meeting amounting to $17,232.85, was reported by the finance committee and bills amounting to $3,275.21 were audited.

On motion of Trustee Schaeffer a contract was entered into with Fred A. Winters to keep the school plant in repair for one year for the sum of $50.

What is Just?
People are perpetually squabbling about what will be best to do, or easiest to do, or advisable to do, or profitable to do; but they never, as far as I hear them talk, ever ask what it is just to do. And it is the law of heaven that you shall not be able to judge what is wise or easy, unless you are first resolved to judge what is just, and to do it.—John Ruskin.
